Presidents Report

We have had a great start to the year with great attendance on our runs. Australia Day was at a different venue than in previous years. Alex took us for a lovely drive, staying clear from the highway as much as possible on the Fish & Chips run. Peter organised a very interesting visit to Osprey House on our first mid-week run. It is great to see so many of our members attending our runs which is tribute to the effort and ingenuity of the run organisers.

It was recently brought to my attention that this year is the club's 25th birthday. As your president I will be organising a run to celebrate this milestone. We spoke briefly about this at our last general meeting and members were asked if that had any suggestions on when this should take place. One suggestion was that we go somewhere nice for lunch. If you have any suggestions could you please let me know so I can take them to the next general meeting.

See you and your classic car at the next run

Neils

Secretary's Report for January/February 2017

We had a good rollup to the Australia Day Show and Shine at the Beerwah/Glasshouse Mountains on Australia Day and the shade offered by our shade cover which Kim had bought along in the Holden Ute and the extra one supplied by Jenny and Stan Vallance was greatly appreciated. I won't dwell on that run as it will be covered separately. The Fish and Chip run gave us the opportunity to hold our first regular club meeting and there was quite a lot of correspondence to look at. Unfortunately, this venue precludes us from using our microphone and speaker as it interferes with Morgans PA system but we managed OK. Our next run in March should be better. Our run to Osprey House was successful and a report has been submitted. We took the opportunity to hold a Committee Meeting on this run so there may be a few items to raise at our next General Meeting. We have had quite a few new members submitting applications and most have been admitted to our club. Hope we get more during the year. Our Treasurer will be on leave till mid-March and he has left the cheque book with me! Wahoo! The March run being organised by Dave Alsbury sounds interesting and I hope to see you all there. Until then, safe motoring,

Peter

Australia Day Run

This year the club decided a different venue than in previous years. We had a great roll up and our cars set off for the Glasshouse Mountains Country Club for their yearly Show and Shine. Aileen & I meet the cars at the entrance shortly after 8.00. Thanks to Kim and Carol who brought the clubs gazebo we had some shelter from the sun it was a really hot day. The space under the club's gazebo soon filled and thanks to Jenny & Stan who brought their own gazebo we all had room to sit and enjoy the day in the shade.

There were a number of Australia day activities going on through the day including the main one, the Show and Shine. There we vast array of Classic and Mussel car on display. A number of trophies were awarded to different categories and our 1965 MGB won the "Best British", which was a nice surprise. I think everyone had a great day and members started to set off for home shortly after 2.00.

Sunday 5th February 2017 Fish n Chip Run

Today your erstwhile correspondent decided (against his better judgement) to attend the traditional "fish & chip run" usually organised by our recently retired President. I strongly suspect he volunteers for this task each year simply because he doesn't have to complete another run sheet – he just uses the one from last year, which is the same as the one he used the previous year, and so on, ad infinitum!

Anyway, the sun was shining and making dappled patters on the other members as they stood beneath the trees, chatting and awaiting the arrival of "he who has the run sheets". This was purely a courtesy to our ex - el President as we all knew the route from previous years, and could have taken off without him.

As he arrived and proceeded to distribute the aforementioned run sheets we became aware of two important changes in our usual, if not diverse instructions which would lead us to our eventual destination. Shock, horror; we were going a different way, and more about that later, but in typical, or should I say predictable fashion he had omitted the morning tea stop! Andy Byrne had to be physically restrained, and some of our older members were checking their pulse, such was the ignominy associated with this kind of omission.

To his credit our ex leader apologised, and as is his want, called a meeting to explain that there was indeed a morning tea stop, with facilities available, and we would be stopping there after all. We untied the ropes used to tie Andy to the tree, and Carol picked herself up from the ground where she had thrown herself down in a tantrum, and proceeded to our vehicles in a more or less orderly fashion.

Once underway we continued along King Street, drove by the lake, and through Caboolture to Caboolture River Road, and onward to our morning tea stop at the Farmer's Community Hall – which our leader passed, locked up all 4 wheels, and had to reverse back to the entrance! Very observant! After a pleasant and refreshing interlude, we took off again and enjoyed a pleasant and picturesque drive which meandered through some little known back roads on the outskirts of Rocksberg, Moorina and Burpengary. Past some cattle properties (complete with grids) and plenty of hills and dales. Finally arriving at Oakey Flat Road, we proceeded through a little bit of suburbia, including Narangba and Dakabin - plenty of roundabouts and back on familiar territory towards North Lakes to see how they spend their Sunday mornings at the shopping precinct.

From there it was a short hop to our final destination, admiring the expensive houses and boats along Newport Drive and the tourist route to the Esplanade and our familiar lunch stop under the trees near Morgan's. Barb & Neville Brown had arrived there direct from home and had been keeping our spot clear of interlopers for us.

Our first general meeting for the year was held, followed by the hardest set of automotive trivia questions set for the run prizes – who the hell knew that John Z DeLorean was once President of the GM Pontiac division, or that Lee Iacocca was fired by Henry Ford II?

Anyway, trivia aside, we enjoyed the pleasant Sunday morning excursion – and if you didn't...tough, because you'll probably be treated to the same run next year if our Run Director has his way, hopefully without the ridiculous trivia!!

CHACC Mid-Month Run Report for 15th February 2017 Osprey House, Dohle's Rocks Road, Griffen

The run started well with 12 vehicles turning up at the Sundowner.

Unfortunately Kim and Carol had come to advise us of a plumbing problem that had occurred at home and would be unable to do the run with us. Also Barry Smith had some business that needed to be attended to and submitted his apologies.

That left us with 10 vehicles which is about our normal mid-month attendance.

The run took us through Caboolture main street then along Morayfield Road before getting on to Oakey Flat Rd then turning into Rainbird Rd where we left the built up areas and proceeded through the back roads of Narangba before entering the Dayboro Rd and heading back to Petrie.

These roads took us through the rural areas with winding narrow and hilly roads where we encountered a couple of areas of roadworks and some were lucky enough to proceed through these areas whilst others had to stop and look at the "lollypop Man" before being able to proceed!

All seemed to be going well with directions easy to follow until after turning into Youngs Crossing Road and travelling through the area at the back of Strathpine etc, we were to turn left into Southpine Rd but again I was later reminded that I don't know my left from my right and you guessed it, I had written turn right instead of left into Southpine Rd. Fortunately everyone picked up my mistake and carried on, turning left and saving me further embarrassment. I have no doubt that Sally will be asking for a big payout on our next run. Too big a mistake to keep hidden!

Prior to leaving the Sundowner I had arranged to contact Osprey House to advise them of how many cars we would have as they had booked in some groups of school children and parking may be a problem. When our group arrived, we were all directed to an area they had kept for us and we were all lined up in the bus parking bay and they had also set up tables and chairs on the balcony where we could have lunch.

The welcome we received to this complex was great and congratulations to Tom who directed the cars and Kim our host and her merry band of volunteers was tremendous and a big thanks to those people.

Prior to lunch we were entertained by the viewing of the hatching and growth of their one and only Osprey born on the nesting platform.

After lunch we had a quick Committee meeting before Gladys and I had to dash off to attend a medical appointment so I handed over the duty of running the quiz and the rest of the proceedings to our President.

All in all a great day out!

BUM A RIDE Feel like catching up with your CHACC mates but don't feel like driving? Unable to drive – not feeling well, but need an outing?

Run too long – don't feel like driving that far? If you answered YES to any of the above scenarios – then pick up the phone and request a lift or wander down to the Sundowner and get a lift from there!

How to get a really clean windscreen

Keeping your car's windscreen clean is vitally important and right up there with paying attention to your tyres. Here's how to get a really clean windscreen.

THERE'S NOTHING WORSE than peering through a grubby and smeared windscreen. And while it seems like a simple thing, actually getting your windscreen properly clean is not always easy. I know, because for years I've been looking for the best way to get a crystal clear, streak free finish, and been frustrated with the end result. It gets worse in summer when heat causes the chemicals and oils in the plastics and other materials in your car's cabin to leach out and adhere to the windscreen, creating what is called "vinyl fog". Using protectants only makes it worse, and if you (or someone else) smokes inside the car, it can add a real film to the glass (and every other surface). A filthy windscreen is not only annoying, it is potentially dangerous because it limits your ability to see what's happening around you. So, here is the definitive way to clean your windscreen, inside and out.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

A spray bottle. Paper towel. Microfiber towels. Rubbing alcohol. Proprietary glass cleaner. Clay bar. Car wax.

CLEAN THE OUTSIDE FIRST

Cleaning the outer glass makes it possible to see how clean (or otherwise) the inside is. You may not realize it, but glass is the second largest surface on your vehicle after painted panels. Some people like to use a paper towel or a scrunched up newspaper. I find paper towels will break down, often leaving residue on the screen.

Crumpled newspaper has the potential to scratch the glass. The best option is a microfiber towel - they're relatively inexpensive and leave no residue or fluff. Before you use it, remove any tags. Work in the shade and turn the towel often, or use a new one. Clean one half of the windscreen at a time. Using proprietary glass cleaner (in a spray bottle or aerosol can), preferably ammonia-free, clean the windscreen in a random, circular motion. Once you've done both halves of the windscreen, that's where most people stand back and admire their handiwork. But there's more to getting a really clean 'screen. You may have a clay bar and think it's only for cleaning the paintwork, but a clay bar does a great job on glass. Use warm water in a spray bottle (warm water loosens grime better than cold water) and spray plenty of it onto the glass. Work the clay bar in all different angles. If you feel resistance, concentrate on that area to remove the embedded contaminants. Keep spraying plenty of water on the glass. Once you're done, take a fresh microfiber towel and clean the windscreen again with glass cleaner to remove any residual clay. Dry thoroughly using the microfiber towel. Now, here's the final step. Take a tin of car wax (just like you use on the paintwork) and apply it across the windscreen glass. Waxing the screen adds a protective layer (just like it does to paintwork). Water beads on the 'screen and falls away, and bird droppings and other muck wipe off easily. Make sure you've covered every part of the windscreen with wax. Apply the wax thinly in a circular motion, using moderate pressure. Wait five minutes and then wipe a small spot with your finger. If the glass comes up clear (not smudged), the wax is ready to be removed. Buff it off, turning the microfiber cloth regularly and use a circular motion. Make sure you remove the wax from black pieces and black trim as the wax will dry white and look unsightly. Now take another towel and give the windscreen a final buff. Start with a circular motion, then finish by wiping it up and down. Spray some glass cleaner on a towel and wipe the edges of the wiper blades.

CLEANING THE INSIDE

If your car has aftermarket tinted windows, do not use an alcohol-based glass cleaner. Instead, just clean tinted windows with soapy water (one drop of detergent in a spray bottle of water is sufficient). Now, the windscreen isn't easy to clean inside, partly because it's not easy to get into tight areas between glass and-dash-board. First up, wipe the windscreen with a dry microfiber towel. Here's a worthwhile hint. Climb in the front of the car and face the rear. Then, using a backhand motion, clean down to the dashboard. This technique means you can get your fingers right into the small gap and apply pressure. Another useful tip is to avoid allowing the cloth to make contact with any surface other than the glass because it will pick up oils and transfer them to the windscreen. If you drop the towel onto the dash top, get a clean one. Take some rubbing alcohol and spray a little onto a microfiber cloth to de-grease the glass. If any liquid falls onto the dash, wipe it off immediately with a paper towel - don't use the microfiber cloth. Once you have de-greased the glass, dry with another microfiber towel. Take your proprietary glass cleaner and spray onto your microfiber towel. Don't spray it directly onto the glass because there will be overspray on surfaces where you don't want it. Use a circular motion. Then flip the towel and wipe the inside of the screen up and down from top to bottom.
